Lunch Meeting

On August 25th we had a guest speaker during our Zoomy Zoom lunch meeting. Leslie Lawrence the Food Truck Program Manager for Sensable Snacks.

Easterseals UCP and Trillium Health Resources are working together with area food banks to help teens and young adults with Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities (I/DD). Individuals between the ages of 16-26 will develop employment skills to work on food trucks that serve healthy snacks throughout the communities of New Bern and Ahoskie, North Carolina.

Individuals start out as Volunteers. If they are a fit and are able to pick up the work they are given internships. After working for some time as an intern and picking up more they can transition into paid employment. They learn order taking, inventory, working face to face with customers.

Due to Covid their trucks are not up and running at this time. You may go to Easter Seals on Trent Road and see their truck parked in the parking lot if you would like to see it. At this time they are selling Snack-o-grams on their virtual store. A package will be mailed with a T-shirt(Child or Adult), snacks and a personal card. These boxes are being packed at home so this keeps the workers employed. You shop and pay online, the staff will pack the box and then it will be sent via the post office. Snack-o-grams cost $20 this includes tax and shipping. Shop now at <https://sensablesnacksesucp.square.site/s/shop>.

There is an attachment to the email this Newsletter is on that has more information.

Coin Box drive... We are more than $300 ahead of last year. If you are out and about consider checking on your coinbox. Ours at the store is filling up because people do not want their change so it is all going into the box. Dollars included. Drop off for change is now available at The Bate Foundation. There is a mail slot in the drawer that you can drop the coins in. Thank you Joyce!

Terri Lynn Nut Fundraiser... We have purchased 3 different nut products to sell. They are in a bag and they sell for $13.00 each. They are delicious!! There is Dark Chocolate Almonds, Heart Healthy and a Deluxe Mix. None have peanuts. We still have a supply of them so customers don't have to order and wait for delivery. Let me know if you would like to sell some or buy some. We also have an online website for sales. Customers can go online and purchase any of their products and we will get the credit for the sale.
